Warum E-Lab?

The background image shows a well-equipped electronics laboratory. In the foreground, there are several workstations with white tables and blue legs. Each workstation has a computer monitor, keyboard, and various electronic equipment. In the background, there are three robotic arms hanging from the ceiling, which are used for automated tasks. The room is brightly lit with overhead fluorescent lights. There are also some cleaning supplies and other tools on the tables.

Ausstattung & Highlights

A photograph of a well-equipped workshop. In the foreground, a wooden workbench is cluttered with various tools, including a green bench vice, a red vacuum cleaner, and several orange cables. A white robotic arm is mounted on a stand, reaching over the workbench. In the background, a black 3D printer and a reflow oven are visible. The room has white walls, a window with a view of trees, and a white cabinet under the window.
